We will give you responsibility for these tasks

- Analysis of the processes and requirements
- Design and implementation of the solution using our products Allevo Junan and Allevo Koodai
- Supporting customers throughout the entire project cycle - from concept to go-live
- Documentation, training; motivation of new opportunities for the customer

Your skills with which you complement us

- Academic education in computer science, natural sciences, philosophy, physics, sociology, theology, economics... - the decisive factor is your enthusiasm for conceptual thinking
- Willingness to break new ground with Excel; SAP experience (FI, CO, HR, MM, PP) is an advantage
- Experience in the field of controlling with regard to planning and budgeting is very welcome.
- Very strong customer and service orientation
- Organizational and process affinity as well as clear written and oral communication (fluent German, good English)
- Strong interpersonal and team skills
- High level of commitment, flexibility and willingness to travel for projects in the DACH region, the EU and worldwide

What you will get from us

- Part-time, full-time, mobile working from home - the balance between work and personal life is very important to us.
- Comprehensive onboarding and training programs, as well as technical and professional training opportunities
- Job ticket or job bike - our ecological mobility package
- Modern working conditions as well as free drinks and organic fruit
- A highly attractive company pension scheme

Are you looking for a new challenge? We look forward to hearing from you!
